Medicare rejection for timely filing

Last modified on 09/28/2026 11:57 am EDT

Medicare will reject claims for timely filing if they are filed 12 months/1 year after the date of service. Medicare does not allow appeals for timely filing denials; however, you might be able to request that the claim be reopened.

You can find additional details here in the Medicare Claim Processing Manual, Chapter 34.