

Medicare rejection for timely filing

Last modified on 12/18/2024 11:35 am EST

Medicare will reject claims for timely filing if it is filed 12 months/1 year after the date of service. Medicare does not allow appeals for timely filing denials, however, you might be able to request that the claim be reopened.

You can find additional details here in the Medicare Claim Processing Manual, Chapter 34.
