

How do I update or archive my custom procedures?

Last modified on 11/01/2024 11:16 am EDT

Occasionally, the prices of your procedures and inventory will change. You may also decide not to offer a service and the related custom procedure code will need to be archived. You can do both quickly and easily in DrChrono.

1. Hover over Billing in your navigation bar and select Custom Procedures.

On your custom procedures page, you have a couple of different options.

- History - this will show you the history of the custom procedure code including when it was created and any price changes.
- Edit - this will allow you to make changes to the description, price, or cost.
- Archive - this will allow you to archive the custom code, removing it from being selected on a patient appointment.

Custom Procedures
Custom Procedures are the types of products and services you can provide. You can track their use under Inventory Management.
