How do I access my lab results?

07/08/2024 7:45 pm EDT

Viewing lab results through OnPatient must be enabled by your provider. If you need access to lab results information that you do not currently see available in your OnPatient account, we recommend reaching out to your healthcare provider's office for more details.

You can reach out to your healthcare provider's office by calling their office directly or by using the Messaging feature in OnPatient. Learn more about OnPatient's Messaging feature here.

If you do have access to your labs, this is how you view them:

Log into OnPatient and click on the Health Profile tab. Next, click the Labs section to view your lab tests, the status of the lab, and lab results.